Even if you've misplaced your license key or have a retail version, we'll help you out. Between 1979-1982, both the NATO and Soviet Warsaw Pact militaries began the shift away from industrialized warfare of the early 20th century and towards the modern digital battlefield of today. With this patch (click here) there's significant improvements to Marine and Canadian uniforms, a few mismatched weapons cleared up, issues with the Marines Campaign fixed, and another dozen useful improvements. Sometimes it's better not to ask! As before all games include free, unlimited downloading for both Windows and MacOS. The patch includes a long list of TO&E and bug fixes. This way you don't have to pay for redundant printed manuals just to get DVDs. Reporting Problems If you should find a technical issue with the website in general or the store specifically, head on over to the general Tech Support Forum and let us know. Combat Mission Fortress Italy's latest module, Rome to Victory, is available now. One change that is made to all the games is that soldiers are more likely to hold their ground and shelter in place when suppressed in defensible terrain (building, hedgerow, etc), rather than engage in evasive behavior. Here's some things to think about as you check out the new site: New Store, Same Accounts. Check out the CMSF2 Forum for more information. For original CMSF1 players there are a bunch of inexpensive options awaiting you in the Upgrades section. Yes, we know it's about time... The march continues to the Alps as we introduce new TO&E that includes Indian, Brazilian, South African and Free French forces. Do not worry, it will work if you're using the correct email address If the system doesn't recognize your info, try a different email address If you have one If you can not remember your login info, or are using an account with a dead email address, click on the Support link above and then the Help Desk to file a ticket. The improvements included in these patches will be released with the module Fire and Rubble) Posted On: August 4, 2020 Battlefront is happy to announce a new commercial sales partnership with Slitherine Publishing. These patches are all available for download now. Battlefront's online store will remain unchanged, except that pricing will stay in synch with a coordinated sales strategy. To do a reset, click on Login (upper right corner of this page) and then click on the Password Reset link down at the bottom. Now get all 3 base games for 20% off the regular price! That's a savings of $36! Purchases of these games also get Steam license keys at no extra charge. The obvious question out there is "when will CMSF2 ship?" We're aiming for no later than the end of September. What you will SOON find is Shock Force 2! Everything is set to go for preorders, however we wanted to first take the website and store for a shakedown cruise before there's a bunch of you Refresh Monkeys™ hammering away on the new site. You can download all of these patches now by clicking here there are countless changes to the games TO&E, major changes to the TacAI to better handle the use of cover when under heavy fire along with many other bug fixes.(There is no new patch for CMSF2 because the previous v2.01 patch already incorporated the relevant Engine 4 improvements) Posted On: January 1, 2019 By popular request we smoothed out some rough spots in our recent Shock Force 2 release. For existing CMSF1 customers your old license keys are in the system and ready to be reactivated. You need to enter your Username and email address. Combat Mission Fortress Italy's newest module adds nearly 100 new formations and over 50 new vehicles to the Italian theater as the theater is expanded to the Alps and the end of the war. Here are the potential problem areas: Your Username is your account email address unless you manually changed it at some point in time If your Username is too long it will be truncated. Combat Mission Cold War simulates several "what if" conflict scenarios between US and Soviet forces centered on the strategic Fulda Gap and environs in West Germany and the National Training Center (NTC) in California. Download the patch now (click here). And for those who don't know, all CMSF1 (original) products can be inexpensively upgraded once CMSF2 is released. Details about each patch can be found on that game's forum page. (There is no new patch for Combat Mission: Red Thunder. Pre-orders for this exciting new title are now open. Combat Mission Cold War simulates several "what if" conflict scenarios between US and Soviet forces centered on the strategic Fulda Gap and environs in West Germany. Please be patient for a response. It spans geography from the Baltic coast to the very center of Berlin. And for those who don't understand the monkey reference, ask around on the Forums and you'll quickly find out. Battles from small infantry actions to the last of the sweeping tank battles in Europe are represented in both scenarios and campaigns. Time to take the war through Northern Italy and to final victory. But be prepared for long winded tall tales from the old timers. The patch also introduces Slitherine's PBEM++ automated Play by Email system (Windows only) .
